

Australian Finance Centre Story

Australian Finance Centre was established by Andrew Salsbury (managing director), with his determined motivation to help Australian citizens achieve one of many lifelong goals - to obtain a home loan.

Please take the time to read our 'Corporate Profile'.

With this in mind Australian Finance Centre and Andrew Salsbury sort to provide something different to meet the needs of all home loan applicants, from mainstream applicants to applicants which may have financial difficulty or non-traditional circumstances.

Australian Finance Centre appreciate that you all are so very different, thus, suggesting that loan applicants cannot be categorised into boxes, rather individually analysed so that each and every loan must be tailored to meet your specific needs.

Today Australian Finance Centre Pty Ltd has grown significantly with your (our clients) help, transformed into a national organisation assisting Australian citizens across the Australian shores.

With our unchanged culture and even more determination to help assist many Australian citizens and continually supporting our 1000's of existing clients through ongoing money management programs to improve and increase their individual wealth creation for many more years to come.

With over 30 years financial experience and the highest quality loan writers in the industry, ensuring you the client will get the best loan possible to suit your needs.

Modern technology is of paramount importance to Australian Finance Centre to keep with the time and enhancing modern software programs to ensure the best loan products for you. Great support from our IT and Marketing departments ensure all research material brought to you is current and industry leading.
